

Brad Ludford

As the Chief Financial Officer for Bozeman Health, Brad Ludford serves as the executive sponsor for all aspects of financial management and treasury services, Hillcrest Senior Living, and non-clinical support services, including material management and facilities management. Before joining Bozeman Health, Brad spent three years with HSS, as the CFO of a security company that serves many industries, including healthcare and aviation. Prior to that, Brad worked three years at Catholic Health Services where he managed their operational finance function, fourteen years with Exempla Health serving as the CFO for Exempla Saint Joseph Hospital and Lutheran Medical Center, and seven years with Centura Health, departing as the Assistant Vice President of Finance. He also has experience working as a Certified Public Accountant with a focus in tax and public accounting. Brad received his Master of Business Administration degree from the University of Denver and Bachelor of Business Administration degree from Stephen F. Austin State University in Texas. Brad and his wife, Cheryl, have two children—their daughter Kate who is attending the University of Arizona, and son Kyle who recently graduated from high school. Brad and Cheryl enjoy all of the outdoor activities Bozeman has to offer including hiking, biking, skiing, and walking their two dogs, Winston and Lily.
